"On account of the negligence of some of the professors in ordering books for their students, each year an extra number of books have been ordered. Last year, as a result of this, we had 1,647 volumes, which represented $1,585.71. To prevent this from occurring again this year the orders of the professors were imited, and in order to make the professors partially responsible for sale of the books ordered, it was asked of them to make a deposit of $20 when books were ordered. This will prevent the tying up of school funds in an over-

About $200 Is Realized at Benefit for Unfortunate Clarence Hendrickson.

That there is a warm spot in the hearts That there is a warm spot in the hearts of Salt Lake people for the victims of misfortune was shown last night by the large attendance at the benefit dance at Odeon hall, given for Clarence Hendrickson, the youth who lost both legs in an accident in the Tribune elevator shalt last July. Over 600 persons were present, last July. Over 600 persons were present, a great majority of whom enjoyed themselves at dancing. The report of Treasurer H. P. Nielsen showed that $200 net had been raised for the young man.

The benefit movement was started about two weeks ago by Judge C. M. Nielsen, and the success in raising the tidy sum for the unfortunate boy was due in great measure to his efforts. Out of the regular rental of the Odeon hall, the management gave back $25 toward the benefit fund.

Mrs. Martine Hendrickson, mother of the boy, is a widow, and has been compelled to take in washing for some time past to support her family. The $200 coming at this time will prove a godsend to the family.

"It is time a stop was put to the practice of insulting women," said Judge Bowman. "It has come to the point where the women of the city must be protected.

More cases of this character will draw

orison sentences."
From time to time it has been brought to the attention of the police that women are not safe from insult even during the early hours of the evening on the downtown streets. Vulgar and profane remarks are directed at any woman who hances to be alone, and this practice is ot confined to the night hours alone. The practice, it is stated, is not alonamong the rougher class of men, but in cludes well dressed and supposedly re-spectable youths of the city who have become intolerant "mashers."

In the case of Frances tried yesterday it is the first case of this kind to be brought into police court in many weeks. Judge Bowman's attitude indicates that were the 'mashers' brought before him they would receive but scant courtesy

The make a solemn promise to absolutely never indulge in osculatory indiscretions. The reason why these fair ones take such a stand against the kiss is this: Miss Ryan and several other girls of the show found time heavy upon their hands while playing in Seattle a week or so ago, and so they took in a lecture by a learned professor, which was entitled "The Terrible Kiss." It is alleged that the said professor was human and in his expose of kissing was not trying to make life unbearable, but was forced to take to the lecture platform to save suffering humanity.
